

The Congressional Office of Compliance presents
“Creating Welcoming and Inclusive Office Environments for People with Non-Apparent Disabilities and Chronic Health Conditions”

December 16, 12:00-1:00 p.m.

Location: Library of Congress, Madison Building - West Dining Room

The Office of Compliance is pleased to present Mr. Andrew Imparato, Executive Director of the Association of University Centers on Disabilities, a national membership organization of over 100 university-based programs located in every state and territory working on research, training, advocacy and policy to improve the quality of life of people living with disabilities. Mr. Imparato will be speaking on the challenges of addressing mental health issues under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Mr. Imparato previously served as Senior Counsel and Disability Policy Director for Senator Tom Harkin on the U.S. Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions. He has had a long and successful career as a disability rights attorney, including spending three years as an attorney advisor at the US Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. His perspective is also informed by his personal experience with bipolar disorder. Mr. Imparato graduated with distinction from Stanford Law School and is a summa cum laude graduate of Yale College.

Mr. Imparato’s lecture is the first in a series of lectures put on by the Office of Compliance in its Distinguished Speakers Series. Light refreshments will be served but please feel free to bring your lunch as well.
